Giving Back to Our Community

Coin-Op Cares FOR OUR COMMUNITY

For over 70 years AMOA has served as the voice of in-venue entertainment, representing over 1,300 operators, distributors, manufacturers and members of the broader industry. As the organization grew, our membership recognized the need to serve not just the industry, but our community as well. As a result, AMOA formed Coin-Op Cares, a 501c3 organization, to serve as the industry's heart.

Since its formation, Coin-Op Cares has served communities across the nation by:

- ♥ Providing scholarships to students heading off to college or technical schools
- ♥ Supporting philanthropic causes through donations to charities in the host cities for AMOA events
- ♥ Contributing to relief efforts for communities affected by disasters

Coin-Op Cares FOR OUR INDUSTRY

From 1978-1979 Wayne E. Hesch served as AMOA President. Both during and after his presidency, he was a strong advocate for expanding AMOA's educational offerings, resulting in a management program with his alma mater, Notre Dame University. That program carries on to this day as AMOA's On Campus Education @ Notre Dame.

Coin-Op Cares continues this mission with vital support for AMOA's continuing education programs including:

- ♥ Providing scholarships to our On Campus Education @ Notre Dame program
- ♥ Helping to fund our On the Road Educational Programming Series
- ♥ Helping to bring programming to members where they are through our On Demand Education Series

Coin-Op Cares FOR THE FUTURE

When Hesch passed away in 1983 at the age of 43, AMOA honored his commitment to education by establishing a scholarship in his name. This would later become a catalyst and flagship program for Coin-Op Cares. Every spring since then, AMOA Members have sponsored promising students as they have applied to receive scholarships up to $1,000. To date, AMOA has awarded over $1.5 million to students from a variety of programs and schools across the country.
